

I think that the ownership of broadcasting stations should not be regulated. Anyone who wants to own their own broadcasting station should be able to. A station should be able to own as many stations as they want.